Understanding Equus

2010 Freelance Services include: private consultations, ongoing coaching sessions, workshops, talks & demonstrations. Ideal for helping horses and their owners work positively together, overcoming challenges and bringing the best out of their partnerships; and educating people in the true nature and communication systems of the horse.

New for 2010! Personal / Professional Development Training Days: In association with 'Challenge Manager', Debbie will be offering; Leadership, communication, team-building & management training days with the master of non-verbal communication, the horse. Horses offer you immediate, consistent and honest feedback, taking you on a 'real-life' journey. As highly sensitive, reactionary animals they will respond to every thought, move & decision you make, illustrating how you can and do impact on those around you. <http://www.challengemanager.co.uk/>

Chirokinetic Therapy (CKT): This year I have had the unique opportunity to train and begin to develop an even more holistic approach to helping horses and their humans using CKT. This aims to balance the body's physical & emotional needs using kinesiology (muscle testing) to highlight areas of weakness and imbalance. If you would like to learn more about how this approach could help you and your horse, please follow the link below or call me for more information. <http://www.chirokinetictherapy.com/>

Please keep an eye the website for further details, dates and information coming in the New Year: <http://www.understandingequus.co.uk/News.htm> Alternatively, call me now for an informal chat on the ways I can move you and your horse forward to achieve your maximum potential.
